Description: I have had my little girl sense she was 6 weeks old. Im active duty and have been assigned to deployment and can not care for her anymore. Im looking for a good home for her. She is a house god, never had any issues with her in our home. I raised her with both of my boys. she does great with children of all ages. she loves to play and be outside but mostly she loves to be around people. gets along with other dogs great! really I would love to keep her but my current active duty status won't work with keeping her. Please if you think you provide her a loving, long term environment please contact me.
